- Family Planning and Prenatal Care:
  - County Health Departments: These offer a variety of services including pregnancy tests, counseling, maternity care, WIC Program, immunizations, family planning, some care for babies and children, including services or referral through Children's Medical Program (formerly Crippled Children's Services). Contact your local health department for a complete list of services.
  - Community Health Centers: All CHCs offer family medical care; many offer prenatal and well baby care. Contact the center in your area for specifics.

- County Human Services Offices:
  - Economic Assistance (EA): Persons in need of economic assistance may apply at these offices for Medicaid programs, Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), food stamps, and USDA commodities; other programs may be available. Call the office for specifics and to determine what information is required to apply for the various programs.
  - Social Services (SS): County offices provide counseling, information, and referral to pregnant women. They also arrange for placement in licensed maternity homes.

- Crisis Pregnancy Centers: CPCs are private organizations offering pregnancy testing and counseling. CPC staff help arrange prenatal care and delivery care and, in some instances, can help secure clothing and housing. Contact local CPC for more information.
- Pregnancy and Maternity Counseling: Counseling and referrals for women who need help and guidance in securing a plan for the future. Often finds "host families" or sheparding care/homes."
- Licensed Maternity Homes: Maternity homes provide a place away from home for te woman who wants to leave her community for privacy or protection during pregnancy; babies are normally released for adoption. Contact individual homes for more details.
- Hospitals With Delivery/Newborn Services: These hospitals provide the physical facilities for labor and childbirth. Type of services offered for complicated pregnancies and births vary; contact local hospital for specific information about services available.
- Licensed Adoption Agencies: Adoption agency services vary , but most offer counseling for the pregnant woman before and after delivery and locate a home for the baby when it's born. They also counsel with the adoptive family before and after placement. Contact individual agencies for specifics.
